HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE 2024 COMMUNITY CONFERENCE: INSPIRING RESILIENCE AND BUILDING THE FUTURE

This past weekend, Rainhouse Manufacturing Canada Ltd.'s President and CEO, Ray Brougham, took the stage at the Community Conference 2024, a dynamic event hosted at the beautiful Westin Bear Mountain Resort in Victoria, BC. A platform for fostering community resilience and growth, this conference gathered leaders, innovators, and pioneers from various industries to exchange ideas on strengthening local economies, promoting sustainable business practices, and nurturing resilient communities.

With an impressive average of 300 virtual attendees, peaking at nearly 600 on Sunday, the conference saw enthusiastic participation from a diverse audience. Feedback on Ray's presentations was overwhelmingly positive, underscoring the impact of Rainhouse's story and mission.

AN EXCLUSIVE KICK-OFF GATHERING

The weekend commenced with an exclusive reception hosted by Jonathan Bower, the conference organizer, at his home. Bringing together event speakers and sponsors in an intimate setting, the evening provided a unique opportunity for networking, idea exchange, and building connections that would carry into the weekend sessions.
